

Lemon Grove to Become the Sweetest Community in the Nation

S & S Candy Co. Locates in Lemon Grove

After making a survey and investigation of many building sites in the San Diego Metropolitan area, the S & S Candy Co. has chosen a location in Lemon Grove.

A factory, which will have 10,000 square feet of floor space, is being constructed at 7231 Broadway, just west of Ball's Self Service Station, by J. A. McClurken.

A retail store will be included in a front corner of the building.

The company now has a temporary factory here at 3482 and 84 Main street. The main factory and a retail store are located at 4487 El Cajon Blvd., San Diego, but after the new building is completed the two factories will be combined.

There are two other retail stores located in El Cajon and La Mesa.

Dan Salerno, president of the S & S Candy Co., has been in the candy business 40 years. He owned the Lucky Bite Candy Co., in Chicago, Ill., which he sold in 1933.

Mr. Salerno and his family came here 16 years ago and live near Lemon Grove in La Mesa. His stepson, Harry Haverkamp, is vice president of the company. E. F. Smith, secretary, and Paul Sable, sales manager.

Mr. Salerno spends much of his time in originating novel candy specialties for some of the largest retail stores in Los Angeles and other cities.

Mr. Salerno says that when his new factory starts producing he hopes to hire local people to add to his force.

First of Six School Projects Get State O. K.

The Board of Trustees of the Lemon Grove School District has received permission from the California State Department of Finance to proceed with public notices for the first project of the new building program. This project will include construction of five classrooms, a kindergarten, and administration buildings, all elementary, in the Golden Avenue Unit. This is the first of six projects to be approved.

It is planned that the Vista La Mesa School additions will proceed within the next month. Other projects will follow shortly thereafter, and it is hoped that all new additions and schools will be under construction by late summer.

These additions, approved by the voters of this community at a special school election on last December 5 will relieve the crowded conditions now existing in the district, and permit boys and girls to enjoy a full day of instruction.

Monterey Heights Civic Meeting

Monterey Heights Civic Organization met in the school building on Tuesday evening of last week.

Many new people were welcomed and it is hoped that many more will attend and help to make this organization a real help to the community. It takes interested people to make a good civic group.

A paper drive will be started on February 24. Please save your newspapers, tie them in bundles and leave on the porch for the collectors.

Help is needed for the Teen-Timers Club. A meeting place is needed and projects would help stimulate interest.

A building is badly needed on the park site for a meeting place for the young folks and other groups.

The next meeting will be held on March 6 in Monterey Heights School.

250 Repond to Registration Plan

Two weeks ago the Lemon Grove School District's three P.T.A. groups, along with the Teachers Association, held a campaign to register those people in this community who were eligible to vote here but who had not yet registered for that voting. These groups are pleased to announce that approximately 250 people registered at the special places, throughout the district, which had been set up to accommodate them.

In civic classes in the schools, the importance of the privilege of voting was given special emphasis during this campaign, and students were given an opportunity to study how the voting power of a free people maintains this free nation.

Holy Cross Mission is Name of New Episcopal Church

The new Episcopal Mission, established about two months ago by Rev. Charles E. Evans, has been named Holy Cross Mission, "in reverence for the Sacred Passion, and in honor of the symbol of salvation."

This action was taken at the business meeting of the congregation held Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Nutter, 7687 Madison.

Carl L. Sharrott was named key man and Mrs. Edwin F. Cochran, key woman, until the Church is officially organized. B. Frank Cummings was named treasurer.

An Altar Guild was formed with Mrs. Russell Ray, chairman, assisted by Meses. William Hubbard, Charles Siebert, Philip H. Tamas and T. F. Miller.

Mrs. Charles Siebert was named chairman of the visiting committee.

Services for Wm. C. May

Memorial services for William C. May, 3654 Bonita street, were conducted at St. Andrews Episcopal Church, La Mesa, by the Rev. C. Boone Sadler, Tuesday morning.

William C. May was born October 10, 1902, in Philadelphia, Pa., and came to California in 1934.

He served in the U. S. Navy, after which he was employed as a maintenance dispatcher at Rohr Aircraft.

Mr. and Mrs. May built a home on Cuyamaca in 1940, later selling and moving to Pasadena.

They returned to Lemon Grove some time ago and purchased the home on Bonita.

Mr. May had been in ill health for several years. He was a devoted husband and father.

Surviving are his devoted wife, Pauline, two sons, William and Michael, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Meade of Winter Park, Florida.

LEAVES FOR NASHVILLE

Rev. J. Morris Mulkey, pastor of the Lemon Grove Baptist Church, leaves this week-end for Nashville, Tenn., to attend a meeting of the Committee of Boards of the Southern Baptist convention. He expects to be away a week.

State Civilian Defense Program is Being Whipped Into Form

Tempo of the state's civil defense program is stepping up—Maj. Gen. Walter M. Robinson, Director of Civil Defense, sent a four-man team of top brass into critical target areas to integrate state and local plans and operations. San Francisco and Oakland were the first stops. San Diego and Los Angeles next. First aid classes were set up in more than 300 communities to answer the governor's call for at least one person trained in first aid fundamentals in every California family. Air raid sirens were conducted in most of the population centers. School children were drilled in procedures to protect themselves in the event of an air raid.

Communities were coming up with their own ideas for implementing the civil defense program. At Van Nuys a public ceremony marked the ground breaking of the first backyard bomb shelter in the community. Costing $1500, the shelter will be 9 by 12 feet with concrete walls eight inches thick. In San Gabriel, N. B. Smith, city engineer, announced he had specifications for a bomb shelter that

Youth Delinquency Problems Come to Leader's Attention

Responding to invitations from Mrs. H. Irving Vernier, president of the Forward Club, a small but vitally interested group met at the clubhouse at luncheon Tuesday noon, to discuss "What to do to Prevent Youth Delinquency."

Included were Constable Wrigley, Mr. Wood of the Sheriff's Office, A. F. Sonka, Grant Hadley, and Meses. T. A. Keeton, Wm. Hubbard, Jr., Burt Snyder, Wayne Johnson, G. R. Graham, H. J. Warner, R. E. Issett, Amy Sonka, A. J. Henry and Hannah Abbott, a former matron at Anthony Home.

Youth delinquency was discussed from all angles but every phase of the discussion seemed to lead to the same conclusion that the parents were the delinquents.

Although those discussing the question abhorred acts of vandalism, lack of propriety and lack of respect for others' property, they in no way sat in judgment on the youth, but rather sought for constructive ideas for recreation and leadership for all of the young people.

There are two teen-age clubs in Lemon Grove now, one in need of sponsors and the other for a meeting place.

New First Aid Classes Offered

It is the aim of our Civil Defense Council that every home in the Lemon Grove District shall have at least one person qualified in First Aid, so that all will be well-prepared to meet with any emergencies during the present crisis. Several adult first aid courses are now in session in the district, and student instruction is being given in the junior high school.

Next week two more adult classes will begin for those who wish to qualify in first aid training. Next Tuesday, Mr. Grossman will instruct a class at the Lemon Grove School, Room 12, from 9:00 a. m. until 11:00 a. m. This class will meet each Tuesday and Thursday until eighteen hours of instruction have been given.

At the Vista La Mesa School, Mr. Beals' classes will meet each Wednesday evening from 7:00 to 10 p. m., classes beginning next Wednesday evening.

Pack 8, Cub Scouts, decorated the window in the Lemon Grove Hardware with flags of all nations made by the eight dens. The flags were placed around a world globe on which a Cub Scout was standing. The window has attracted a great deal of attention.

School Buyer Has Shopping Troubles

Every housewife in Lemon Grove is much aware of the rising cost of living as she buys her weekend groceries. But genial Paul Reynolds, business manager of the Lemon Grove School District, also has his troubles and budget-balancing worries with school shopping. He has discovered that his market basket, made, of necessity, heavier because of the growing population, isn't balancing so well with the school "wallet," made lighter because of those spiraling prices.

Mr. Reynolds buys lots and lots of newspaper (scratch paper)—in fact, it is purchased by the ton. Every classroom needs a flag. Students need pencils as they pursue the Three R's. These are just some of the many items needed in any school. Have you any idea how the price has risen for Mr. Reynolds? Using those years prior to World War II as a basis for price comparison, this is how it works out here:

Paper, 3 1/2 cents per pound; now 10c per pound.
Classroom flag, $147; now $4.95.
Pencils, $1.90 per gross; now $3.00 per gross.

COMBINED CLUB MEETING

A combined meeting of the Suburban Toast mistress and El Cajon Toastmistress Clubs was held at a dinner meeting at Ernie's Rancho Wednesday evening. Mrs. Edward Banks presided. Mrs. Floyd Lawson as topic mistress presented a novel theme. Each of nine speakers gave a spontaneous speech imagining herself to be speaking to a famous person born in February. Mrs. M. L. McPherson as toastmistress maintained the theme of important dates in February which culminated in the date, February 14, as the love day. Mrs. Dave Hentig, discussed "Magic in Success"; Mrs. Earl Wolcott, "I Live in the Country"; Mrs. Darwin Bennett, "The Boy."

NEW RESIDENT

J. G. McMahon of Newton, Iowa, is moving to Lemon Grove just as soon as the new home he has contracted for with Dick Foran is completed. He is an insurance man, and has been transferred to the San Diego office by his company. He is returning to Newton next week to bring his family to Lemon Grove.

Rev. R. Dougherty to Fill Pulpit

The Rev. Robert L. Dougherty, now superintendent of public schools of Ramona, has been called to be the ad interim pastor of the Vista La Mesa Christian Church until a permanent pastor is secured to replace Rev. Hensley who left last week for Indiana.

Many childhood memories are revived for Rev. Dougherty as he begins his interim ministry here. Nearly 40 years ago he lived on a cattle ranch not far from the church site. When a forest fire wiped out the entire ranch, the family moved to Santa Cruz where he attended elementary school.

It was the late Shirley Shaw, well-known San Diego minister, who helped Bob to decide to enter the ministry while he was attending the First Christian Church in Stockton. Graduating from high school there, he went to Chapman College, and took his Master of Arts Degree from the University of Southern California.

Rev. Dougherty has combined the ministry with education. He served as Chaplain with the civilian Conservation Corps 1934-38, and as Air Force Chaplain for five and one half years during the recent war, where he advanced to the rank of full colonel. Upon separation from the Army, he became director of public relations for the schools of Redlands, and also served as minister of the Rialto Christian Church which showed an amazing growth under his leadership. Mr. Dougherty will preach vital Christian messages at the 10:45 morning worship services each Sunday, and bring challenging sermons particularly suited to young people at the evening service, at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited to hear his first message Sunday morning.

Ace Markets to Build Big Store Here

L. R. Green of the Ace Markets has purchased two lots on Broadway and expects to develop them some time in the future, when building restrictions are eased by the Federal Government.

The lot at the southwest corner of Broadway and Olive will be occupied by a market for the Ace Markets, and the other lot, at the northeast corner of the same intersection, will be occupied by a large business block.

The Ace Markets, with offices at 603 West Washington, San Diego, operates three markets, at 4650 Mission boulevard, Pacific Beach, 3503 Ingraham boulevard, Pacific Beach and 2176 Chatsworth boulevard, San Diego.

New Bus Line to Serve Area

The name of the San Diego-Campo Bus Line is being changed to San Diego Economy Bus Line, Inc., with Roy Cleator and Clayton Eslinger heading the new corporation. They are the owners of the San Diego-Campo Bus Line, and are residents of Spring Valley.

The new line will serve Emerald Hills, Lemon Grove and Fletcher Hills, when the new franchise is granted.

Fletcher Hills has never had a bus line, and all efforts to obtain bus service have failed, up to now.

Cleator and Eslinger adopted the name "Economy Line" because they estimate that the company's operating cost will be 18c per mile, as compared to other lines operating at 35c.

New Building Nearly Ready

The Lemon Grove Sheet Metal Works, operated on Imperial by Forrest Baxter and Bob Schlect, is moving to its new building on Olive between Broadway and North, within a few days.

The firm is celebrating its third anniversary by moving into a new home of its own.

FIRST BIRTHDAY PARTY

Melody Lee Craddock had her first birthday party on Thursday of last week when her parents, Dr. and Mrs. John E. Craddock, 2340 Lawton, presided at a dinner party. The candle on Melody's beautifully decorated birthday cake was the same candle that had been used on the first birthday cake for her three-year-old brother John, III. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Craddock, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. William Webb, of Anaheim, were present, also Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Emerson and son Lynn, of San Diego.

A report will be given by Capt. Gordon H. Stafford, U. S. A. F., commanding officer at the Santa Ana Filter Center, on the result of air warning tests held on February 3 and 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Landesco are representing the Lemon Grove Post, consisting of Spring Valley, La Mesa, Casa de Ora, Mt. Helix, Homelands and Lemon Grove.

Camp Fire Girls

A doll party for Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls will be held at Grossmont High this year. The girls will make a doll or dress one to be given to over-ages children.

O-K-Hi group had a Valentine party at Janice Sunberg's home. A sack lunch was brought by the girls and cake was served by Mrs. Sunberg. Dolls were made. The I-y-o-p-ta group had a Valentine party at the home of Mrs. Joe Young, their guardian. The girls brought sack lunches and some girls made cake and punch for refreshments. They played games and had a very good time. Gay and Happy Blue Birds and their leader, Mrs. John Dale, had a picnic at La Jolla Monday and visited the Scripps Institute of Oceanography.

Some folks think that fine clothes and fine, big houses are the most important things in life, but these things really don't mean too much if a person doesn't feel well enough to enjoy them. Most folks don't realize this, but Mrs. Lucie Braswell, of Route 2, Stone Mountain, Ga., realizes it very well. Mrs. Braswell takes HADACOL, and by taking HADACOL she found she is helping her system overcome deficiencies of Vitamins B, B₁₂, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.
Here is Mrs. Braswell's own statement: "I have been sick for some time with stomach disturbances. I began taking HADACOL and I have been taking it about six weeks. I am so much better and much stronger. I will continue to take HADACOL. It sure has helped me. I tell my friends about HADACOL. I can't praise HADACOL too much. I am 50 years old."
If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana. Send no money. Just your name and address on a penny post card. Pay postman. Washington MERRY GO-ROUND
DREW PEARSON

Foundation of America
I WENT UP to the little Pennsylvania town where I spent most of my boyhood, to help dedicate the beginning of a new town hall a few weeks ago. It brought back a lot of memories. It also set me thinking about what forms the real foundation of government in this country—namely, the small towns of America.
Swarthmore boasted about 2,000 people when I grew up there, and it still isn't much bigger now. The houses are of that early penitentiary, mansard-roof type; solid, a little ugly, but both the hearthstones and the hearts of the people inside are warm.
A few things about my town have changed in the 35-odd years since I moved away—but not many. There's a new movie house—unheard of in my day. And an underpass has replaced the old railroad grade crossing where watchman Mike McCarthy, friend of every kid in town, used to feed and fume until school was out and all the children had been herded across the tracks.
Some swank new houses have been built in the cow pastures and woods where I once trapped skunks; but Frank Getz, now the town tax assessor, greeted me with the observation: "The skunk-catchin' isn't so good up here any more, but I see you're still catching them down in Washington."

Pearson's Police Record
Biggest change in Swarthmore, however, is going to be the new town hall, for which—with proper ceremonies—we broke ground. The old town hall, a gaunt, ungainly eyesore, caught fire last year, which reminded me that maybe the police records had burned with it, thereby removing from the clutches of my senatorial well-wishers the criminal evidence they have been so diligently trying to find.
A certain senator has been eagerly digging into my past of late, and last week an attorney close to the McCarthyites stood up in court and indicated by his cross examination of me that they were even trying to track down an incident in Reidsville, N. C., where, after taking down a Chautauqua tent, I was arrested at 3 a.m. for taking a sponge bath in the murky Southern railroad yards.
This is a story which I tell every time I go to North Carolina, the last time having been to the North Carolina press association in Chapel Hill about a year ago. I also get humorous letters from Judge Ira Humphries who presided over the court, and Rev. William A. Lambeth, then Methodist minister in Reidsville, reminding me of my wicked past.

Grist for Sen. McCarthy
Presiding at the town hall ceremonies in Swarthmore was William H. Ward, now a top executive of the Du Pont company, who, like me, worked his way through college by spending his summers on a chautauqua tent crew. And I couldn't help but remember how Bill Ward and Gibson Bradford, now Barnesville, Ohio's, leading banker, once took advantage of the liquid coolness of the fountain in the public square at Wellsboro, Pennsylvania, to remove the all-night grime of taking down a tent.
I hope Senator McCarthy doesn't go after them, too!
At any rate, I was acquitted in Reidsville, N. C., and there was even a little lecture by the judge to the arresting cop that it was the duty of every citizen to keep clean.
What Senator McCarthy doesn't know, however, is that the burned records in the old town hall at Swarthmore would have showed that I was also arrested on an entirely different charge at an earlier age (about 15) and that time found guilty.
It was after a college football game. Swarthmore had beaten its old rival, Haverford. The two Quaker colleges were supposed to practice brotherly love, but didn't. Afterward, I rang the village fire bell and got caught. Fine: $5.

Backbone of America
Well, all these memories and a lot of others came crowding back at that dedication ceremony. And among them was the realization that our small towns are the backbone of America, and that if we ever lose our small-town independence, and the community spirit that goes with it, then we might really be in danger of losing the way of Russia.
The tendency of our modern, streamlined nation is to concentrate too much power in Washington. Most people blame Washington for this, though actually part of the blame belongs at home. For, when some towns can't or do not raise enough taxes to build new schoolhouses or pay their teachers, then they come to Washington for federal aid to education. And when states want new roads, they are eager beavers in tapping the public-roads subsidy in Washington.
So Washington can't be blamed for exercising that power.

LAST VOYAGE . . . Her flight decks charred and buckled, the 10,000 ton carrier Independence starts her last voyage beneath the Golden Gate bridge, San Francisco, headed for a rendezvous with death. Veteran of World War II and victim of two atomic bombing tests, the gallant vessel will be towed out to sea and sunk by the Navy. The ship was deemed of no value as scrap because of the radioactivity which still clings to her warped plates.

He said he does not expect rationing to be ordered "in the near future." He said the present price freeze is temporary, to be amended later.

Debbie Reynolds will probably succeed to the kind of roles that MGM used to assign to Judy Garland; apparently, she is being groomed for them. There's a long, hard pull ahead of her if she is to take Judy's place.

Harold Lloyd and Jimmy Conlin spent three weeks filming one sequence in "Mad Wednesday"; they are seen chasing a 400-pound lion up and down fire escapes, in and out of offices and along narrow ledges of a skyscraper.

Ted Mack is amazed daily at the thousands of contributions received as a result of the appearance of the two Godfrey boys on his ABC Original Amateur Hour. The Muscular Dystrophy Association, which is trying to raise $250,000 for research for a cure for the ailment, called the boys to his attention. They and their two brothers suffer from the disease.

Curt Massey's rating, for his afternoon show, now matches that of a night-time quarter-hour musical, and deserves it. He and pretty little blonde Martha Tilton have two of the pleasantest voices on the air.

Terry Moore decided she was being typed, after being seen with a colie in "Son of Lassie", a horse in "Return of October", a gorilla in "Mighty Joe Young" and a squirrel in "The Great Rupert". All she needed was to appear with all these cats in Paramount's "Rhubarb". Instead, she breaks the sequence by co-starring with Victor Mature in "Gambling House".

Household Hints

To avoid having woolen garments turn stiff and hard after washing, add a few drops of glycerine or a pinch of borax to the wash water.
If you must hang a woolen garment up to dry, first pin it or baste it to a Turkish towel, and hang the towel and all over the line. Or, dry it indoors by spreading the towel on a clean window screen and resting the screen between two chairs so that the air can get at both top and bottom.

If you want to shrink a woolen garment deliberately before the first time it's washed, soak it in cold water for about two hours; then spread it out to dry without stretching it in any way.

One of the most delicate fabrics of all, when it comes to washing, is wool. Extremely hot water will actually destroy wool fibers, so never put woolens in anything hotter than lukewarm water. Don't let them soak for any length of time; don't wring them or twist them; don't hang them up to dry. Wash them quickly, squeeze the water out gently, and spread them flat for drying.

IF YOU CAN'T GAIN WEIGHT

If you are skinny, thin, underweight, due to no organic cause, read these facts. To help you gain weight—naturally, so never put woolens in anything hotter than lukewarm water. Don't let them soak for any length of time; don't wring them or twist them; don't hang them up to dry. Wash them quickly, squeeze the water out gently, and spread them flat for drying.

Cows on Test Increasing in State

The number of California cows under test with Dairy Herd Improvement Associations increased more than 12,000 in 1950. Farm Advisor Fred Dorman reports that the total for the state reached 213,421 cows, of which number San Diego County had 8,369 cows in local associations.

The number of cows culled from herds ran unusually large for the state as a whole, amounting to 65,330, almost 20,000 more than the previous year. Such heavy culling plus improved feeding practices resulted in higher average production in many associations.

A total of 426 dairymen were aided in securing new sires during the year and 667 received help in obtaining better females for their herds. The number of bulls proven for their transmitting ability during the year totaled 59. Artificial breeding work also increased.

TAXPAYERS NOW FINANCE MOVIE

According to a news story in the Madera Citizen, a motion picture crew has arrived in the San Joaquin Valley to shoot scenes for a documentary film of the Central Valley Project ordered by the State Department. The picture will show the San Joaquin and Sacramento Valleys before the turn of the century and how public power and irrigation projects have changed them since then. The film will be presented in this country and will also be shown in foreign lands under the sponsorship of the State Department.

The taxpayer's money is going to publicize Federal projects which are in line with similar government projects in socialist and communistic nations.

The questions have been rightly asked: Why should this film not also show what private enterprise is doing, and did, in power and irrigation development long before the present Federal socialistic program was ever thought of? Why not have a film paid for with taxpayers' money to show the American way of doing things? Why must the people put up tax money to show what this country is doing to ape a foreign philosophy which our boys are being killed by the thousands to keep from being forced on unwilling nations? Why not boost our taxpayer, private enterprise system which is being called on today to finance the drive to help free people everywhere? Why should taxpayers' money be used to film and advertise tax-exempt Federal monopolies which are the antithesis of American industrial progress and which, stripped of their disguises, are nothing but socialism?

It would be cheaper to import a good film from Russia glorifying state monopolies. It is time to have a showdown as to who is promoting these alien policies in the United States.

The American public expected, and hoped, when talk first started on freezes, that the administration would freeze everything. Such freeze would not hurt anybody. But the present muddle is causing all kinds of hardships. The administration talks about roll-backs but not at the source. There are very few gougers in business today. Costs are high because of conditions beyond the control of the producer, whether his product be from the soil or manufactured. High taxes, payroll taxes, the deflated dollar, all add to the increased cost of doing business. Inflation has gotten out of hand and all we can do now is hope for the best and trust in God to save us from an ultimate crash.

There is a great debate going on among the bigwigs of the country over what to do about Europe, how many divisions of soldiers we should send them, and what we should do to fence the Russians in. If the people of the United States were to be given a chance to vote on the clear cut issue of whether we continue to try to run the affairs of Europe or get out and tend to our business, the latter would overwhelmingly prevail. Ask the man in the street.

Vice-President Barkley in a speech a few days ago said we must carry the philosophy of our democracy to the peoples of the backward countries of the world. That is a bunch of hooey, and silly. If the peoples of those countries want democracy they can have it. But if they don't want it, all the preaching, money spending and persuasion from the United States will never force them to accept our way of life.

CLEM WHITAKER, Jr.

It must be tough to be 18 today.

All that welter of conflicting and perplexing informed information spewing forth from Washington about the 18 year old draft is enough to make a brass monkey turn around on its pedestal. Draft 'em. Don't we will. We want. Around and around. No one knows what's going to happen.

Are men desperately needed? General George C. Marshall, Secretary of Defense, and his assistant Mrs. Anna Rosenberg have told Congress that the situation is critical—if 18 year olds aren't drafted, then it will have to be veterans and fathers. That being the case, it would seem Congress would have hoped to it and instituted Universal Military Training months ago. No Congress has ever or should ever shrink from protecting the Nation no matter how distasteful the task.

A pattern is beginning to emerge, however, from the barrage of statements laid down from Washington. The Armed Forces, it seems relatively clear, want another 1,400,000 men in uniform within the next year and a half. The Congressional Committees studying the problem have heard from the Department of Defense that the only way to meet the demand is to draft 18 year olds. So far so good in boiled down fashion, that's the case of the "draft 'em younger" advocates.

According to Washington reports, though, Selective Service has crossed up the Department of Defense to a fore-these-well. The Selective Service bureau is said to maintain that 800,000 1A's are to be had now in the 19 to 26 age group, 200,000 more, presently college deferred, will be available at the end of the school year and another 850,000 young men will turn 19 in another year and a half. In other words, Selective Service is held to say that 1,850,000 men in the 19 to 26 age group, all 1A, will be available in the next 18 months to meet a required 1,400,000.

Who's kidding whom still remains to be seen. But it is pretty obvious why Congress isn't drafting 18 year olds. If after digging through the maze of conflicting testimony the lawmakers find Gen. Marshall right, 18 year olds will be drafted. If he isn't they won't. In the meantime, there won't be any drafting for drafting's sake, or for Universal Military Training's sake.

Word reaching California is to the effect that just about everyone in Washington, including Congress, the Department of Defense, Selective Service and you name it, will be surprised if a verdict is reached much before the middle of March.

So when you get right down to it, it's still tough to be 18 and have to wonder what Uncle Sam has in store rather than planning on college, a career or a hitch-hike trip around the country. Let's hope today's 18 year olds do better by their kids.

FROM THE NEWS CIRCUIT JAMES DORAIS

It's folklore in every language that the big fellow always gets a better break when dealing with authority than the little fellow; that persecution always starts with the weak and defenseless.

It doesn't always work that way, however. Sometimes the big fellow is a natural prey just because he is big.

Take the case of the California steamship company, the Dollar Line, whose battles with various Federal agencies have been much in the news lately. Like a good many firms, and individuals as well, the Dollar Line wasn't doing so well during the late Depression. Dollar stockholders, to secure a loan of some seven and one-half million dollars from the Federal Treasury, pledged more than 90 per cent of the company's voting stock to the U. S. Maritime Commission.

Well Made Plans Of Many Men Go Wrong—Without Murder

By BILLY ROSE

If you've nothing better to do for the next three minutes, let's play a game called "Answer Yes or No."

Question: If a doctor were accused of allowing a mean old man to die who only had a week to live anyhow, and you were on the jury, would you find him guilty of murder?

A dopey question, you say, because it leaves you no choice? Well, let me brief you on the events leading up to the crime and then put the question to you again.

The mean old man—let's call him Andrew Horton—was a millionaire of the almost extinct rough-em-up Jay Gould school, and among the people he delighted in pushing around was his son, Andrew, Jr. To round out the picture, it must be admitted that the youngster pretty much rated this treatment: He was a weak-chinned and weak-willed society kid who in his teens had developed a cordial dislike for two things—(a) work, and (b) his father who insisted on it.

Billy Rose

A few months after the boy's 21st birthday, the old man came down with a heart attack that all but did him, and the specialist who was called in informed the son that his pop didn't figure to live more than a week or so.

THAT NIGHT, to celebrate his coming of fortune, the young man went out and tied on quite a package, and on the way home drove his car through a plate-glass window on Madison avenue. He was arrested and promptly bailed out, but the story hit all the front pages. When his father saw the papers the next morning, he almost had another stroke, and it didn't help when the boy fessed up to him and blurted out that in a short time he'd be doing as he darn well pleased.

When his son left, the millionaire sent for his lawyer. "I'm going to teach that kid of mine a lesson," he told him. "Fix up a new will where he doesn't get a which installed its own management and has been operating the line ever since as the American President Lines.

Now it is no disgrace to owe the government money. Millions of "little" Americans, through GI-home and FHA loans, for example, do. When an individual pays off such a loan, the Government claims no further interest in his property.

But in the case of the big Dollar Line, the Federal Government had a much greater stake than in a ten thousand dollar home. Operation of the ships put the Government in the ship-

Commerce and the President of the United States all have interceded in attempts to nullify the Courts decision. On the last day of January, the Court rejected all appeals and reaffirmed its decision that the debt of the Dollar Line having been paid in full, the company's stock should be returned to its owners.

Will the Court's order be enforced soon? Or will the Government, through interminable legal delays, retain control indefinitely of a valuable property it has seized without compensation?

All Americans have an enormous stake in the outcome. For on the day when politicians prove themselves to be above the law of the land, all Americans, big or little, will have lost all semblance of freedom.

Joem Officers Elected

Monty Dickinson was elected to serve as the class president of Mrs. Whalen's 7-1 class. He will be assisted by Gary Trushinsky, vice president; Marjorie Jackson, secretary; and Tommy Halvarson, treasurer.

Judy Pratt is the second semester president of Mr. Covey's 6-1 class, Nancy Sunbury, vice president; and John Sommerfeld, secretary-treasurer.

Lorenzo Alvarez was named chairman of Mrs. Mason's fifth grade for the month of February. Bobby Davis is vice chairman; Keith Hall and Minnie Gregory, ball monitors; Kenneth Cox, reporter; and Bobby Coy, room monitor.

In honor of the holiday this week, two students of Mrs. Mason's class, Vernon O. Mayes and Minnie Gregory, submit the following little poem, "St. Valentine's Day":

"The world, we think, should be bright and gay,
Especially on St. Valentine's Day.

At that time you should join the fun,
And send a valentine to someone.
It only comes once a year,
But when it does, it brings happiness and cheer."

Addresses Teacher Meet

E. K. Povenmire, speech instructor at State College and well-known speaker, addressed the February meeting of the Lemon Grove District Teachers Association on choral speaking and verse choir in the Kindergarten room of Lemon Grove School, on Tuesday evening.

He demonstrated how well this type of group participation fits in to our school curriculums from the primary years through college.

A business meeting of the association, with Mrs. Schwalm, club president presiding, followed. Reports were given by the budget, by-laws, and salary committee chairmen.

Student Council Dance Planned

The Student Council of Lemon Grove Junior High is planning a dance for seventh and eighth grade students next Wednesday evening, at Friendship Hall. Honoring Washington's birthday, it will be called the "Hatch-et Hop." J. Moore, council advisor, is in charge of the evening's program.

All schools in the Lemon Grove School District will be closed on Thursday February 22, for George Washington's birthday, a state holiday.

Valentine Day Program

The students of Mrs. Darroch's 7-1 class of Lemon Grove Junior High presented a special Valentine Day program to their classmates on Wednesday, during the homeroom period. Robert Hensley played a saxophone solo. Ronnie Stalstad entertained with a trumpet number, and Janice Jewett, Karen Dawson, and Shirley Quist each sang solos. The girls' quintet, Margaret Moranville, Sonia Friedericksen, Beryl Scott, Karen Dawson, and Peggy Lester, sang a number which featured harmony. Joyce Herbert in a beautiful costume, danced a ballet number. Gail Stringer played a violin solo, and a vocal duet by Peggy Lester and Janice Jewett concluded the program.

Valentines were then distributed from a colorful box which had been decorated by Grant Ballantine and Miles Fischbeck. As a part of a class reward for an out-standing sale of tickets for the recent P.T.A. dance, a period of dancing followed.

The Executive Board of the San Diego County Administrators Association met at a luncheon at Comanche Bowl, El Cajon Blvd., on Tuesday. The group discussed possible changes in policies in county administration and formulated plans for the action to be taken. Attending from the Lemon Grove District were Byron L. Netley and S. K. Solender.

Gold Citizenship Club Members

In the seventh and eighth grades of the Lemon Grove Junior High, standards in good citizenship have been established toward which all students strive. These are graded in industry, cooperation, reliability, and courtesy by the many teachers with whom they meet each day. Those boys and girls who receive excellent or 'E' ratings from all teachers automatically become members of the Gold Citizenship Club. Those who are ranked satisfactory or 'S' belong to the Green Club. Green and Gold are the school colors.

The following students earned

membership in the Gold Club during the second quarter of this school term:

Eighth grade: Richard Corbin, Judy Pratt, Judith Nelson, Nancy Sunbury, Carole Bisbee, Lupe Sotello, Pat Pfister, Lynda Young, Ted Dunn, Marilyn Brown, Joy Oederkerk, Barbara Ropp, Wanda Turner, Marilyn Bunch, Barbara Clifton, Darleen Chambers, and Barbara Balch; in the seventh grade, Janice Jewett, Shirley Quist, Peggy Lester, Sonja Friedericksen, Margaret Moranville, Barbara Capron, Frances Lovett, Loretta Bell, Deanna Smith.

Marjorie Jackson, Carolyn Smith, Mary Barrow, Eugenia Jackson, Jackie Lahrrey, Sharon Fisher, Dorothy Jiron, Janice Sunbury, Burton Young, David Hendrick, Alice Cozart, Billie Sue Little, Deanne Whalen, Charlotte Norris, Lois Montrose, Sue Martin, Pat Durbin, Robert Furgerson, Arthur Cornelius, Bert Moorehead, Dolores Rubalza, Donna Lee, Melvin Robinson, Larry Reese, and Richard Reed.

The Grossmont Union High Adult Education Department now has a class in metal arts meeting in the high school shop division. This class meets Monday evenings at 7 and is instructed by Mrs. Theresa L. Guimond. Included in the course are etching of copper and aluminum, wirework, cloisonne and coppercraft.

Doctor Lewis B. Lesley spoke to the Sophomores at Grossmont High last Thursday on the French Revolution. This was of particular interest because the group is reading "The Fall of Two Cities."

Recently the Grossmont Chapter of the California Scholarship Federation visited State College. One of the students heard Dr. Lesley, a professor of history, and invited him to speak to the Grossmont students.

His fascinating talk included the history of the time, the development of the guillotine and atrocities inflicted upon the people. He compared French Revolution days to the world situation today.

Dr. Lesley stated that the attitude of the French people then was similar to our attitude toward the Russians today.

The faculty will present its annual "Teachers Talent Show" on Wednesday, February 21 in the Grossmont Auditorium. This has been exciting and sometimes a highly amusing event of the year.

Many students from the Art department have entered the Southern California Regional Scholastic Art Exhibitions. The art exhibition is an annual event that will be held at Bullock's Department Store in Los Angeles this year. The winning exhibits in the Regional Exhibition will be forwarded to the Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh, Pa., to compete for the national judging.

IF YOUR DOG Has Bad Habits

It's easy for a farm dog to develop bad habits. It's almost as easy for you to break them. Here are some pointers on how you can help convince your dog himself that he shouldn't roam or kill sheep. The instructions are from the informative Purina Farm Dog Book on how to care for and train the farm dog.

Roaming

Never tolerate a roaming dog! A dog's place is at his master's side. But, beware of the dog who is gone by himself for hours. Roaming dogs at first go out by themselves. Later they may band together in packs and become a real scourge, even for a whole county.

A dog must form the habit of staying around the farm and go out only with members of the family. If you see the slightest tendency to roam keep him confined. Dogs that are never given a chance to roam very rarely develop this vice.

They just naturally form the habit of staying at home and like it! This brings us to probably the most serious misdeeds:

Sheep Killing

Most sheep-killing is done by a group of dogs, although sometimes "lone dogs" are responsible for much damage. There is hardly any way to cure a dog of this vice. Prevention is one sure method to follow here.

So, first of all, don't let your dog roam.

Then you might let several sheep in your flock carry a bell. Dogs going after sheep might give it up as a bad job, hearing the noise the disturbed sheep make. Also, you could arrive at the scene in time to prevent damage if warned by the bell.

A buck running with the herd will help. Sheep recognize the leadership of the buck, and his capability for defense, and crowd around him. They cannot be scattered as easily and driven into panic.

If your dog has already developed into a sheep killer, but is otherwise good and valuable, better send him to the city where, without these temptations, he can lead a law-abiding canine life.

ley are working on a plan to implement the civil defense program. Banned from the air almost entirely during World War II, radio hams recently received permission from the Federal Communications Commission to operate on certain frequencies if there is a breakdown in regular communications. In Palo Alto building trades craftsmen are being recruited for training as light rescue teams. The quota of men needed for this highly important work there has been set at 603.

District and squad commanders of the California Highway Patrol have been instructed by Commissioner Clifford E. Peterson to bring their local disaster plans up to date in coordination with the state civil defense program. "Food Until Help Comes" is the title of a series of courses for housewives in San Francisco. The program is intended to demonstrate how much food will be needed and can be obtained to sustain a family for 48 hours in the event of a disaster. Use of school buildings as emergency hospitals following an atomic attack is being studied in many cities throughout the state.

A course in "New Problems in Civil Defense" will be offered at Bakersfield College. At Martinez a recruitment drive was started for 500 volunteers. "Ordinary People," a film depicting the courage and trials of the British people during a bombing raid was a feature of a civil defense rally there.

The contribution the trucking industry can make was pointed out at San Francisco by G. C. Sontheimer, director of safety for the American Trucking Association. Safe and rapid transportation of defense materials is a necessary corollary to high production, he said. Aircraft spotters are conducting a series of tests from an observation post atop a Long Beach hotel. The group of 85 persons—about half of them women — are being taught how to identify planes.

In Sacramento 20 radiological monitoring teams of five men each are being organized. Monrovia has completed plans for establishment of six casualty stations that will be staffed 24 hours a day. Auxiliary police recruits at San Pablo are being permitted to ride with regular police squads during their training period.

Chinese physicians and dentists were among the 1200 San Francisco doctors who volunteered for "disaster day" assignments. Airport managers, owners of private aircraft and fliers are working out a plan of civil defense in Antelope Valley. Dunsmuir is organizing a rifle team that will work with the local civil defense organization.

broadcaster, Al Schuss. Mr. Schuss gave some indication of Padre prospects for the coming year and wound up his talk with a round table discussion.

Richard Cecil, son of the owner of Cecil Radio and Television of Encanto, gave a very interesting talk on snakes at the Boy Scout meeting held in the auditorium of St. John of the Cross. He told what to do in case of snake bites and had several live snakes as well as some pickled one for demonstration.

The Boy Scout troop, No. 164 of St. John of the Cross took part in the parade and attended Mass at the Cathedral on Sunday at the 12:45 Mass when his Excellency, Bishop Buddy, presented the Ad Altare Dei Award to Catholic Scouts. This being Boy Scout week they formed a parade and marched to the Cathedral.

Save Your Jobless Pay

By ROSS GRAHAM

Ed. Note: This is the sixth of a series of ten special articles.

Of all the rackets that are making the California unemployment insurance reserves fund, one that is particularly reprehensible even though it can be legal, is the "lag-quarter" racket.

It is estimated that this racket costs the honestly-unemployed about $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 a year from the reserve fund, that is supposed to protect them when they are out of work through no fault of their own.

With the reserve fund estimated to diminish about $23,000,000 this year, the importance of ending the lag-quarter racket easily can be seen. Here is how it works:

A person can be steadily employed for 18 months at a salary of $50 a week. On December 30 he is laid off. (Under these circumstances, it should be noted, he is entitled to unemployment insurance because he is out of work through no fault of his own.) On January 2 he files a claim for benefits.

In this case the individual's base earning period is the first 12 months out of the last 18 months. In the first 12 months he has total earnings of $2,600. In the last 6 months his total earnings were $1,300.

He uses the first 12 months' earnings as basis for his first unemployment benefit payments and gets maximum benefits of $650, or $25 a week for 26 weeks. (The law provides benefits may be up to one-half his base period earnings, but not more than $650.) This person remains unemployed for the 26 weeks and draws the maximum of $650 in unemployment insurance benefits.

Now, for the next six months the person must find some other means of support if he is to be a full-fledged "lag-quarterer." But on the following January 2, the first anniversary of his first claim, still being unemployed, he files a second claim.

Again his unemployment insurance award is based on the first 12 months out of the last 18 months, and being the first 12 months, it includes the last 6 months that he was steadily employed, before he started his year of loafing on unemployment insurance.

For this last 6 months, remember he still has $1300 in wage credits, which being twice $650, entitles him to the maximum unemployment insurance benefits of $650 again, at the rate of $25 a week for 26 weeks.

So the individual gets to loaf on unemployment insurance for the first and last six months of an 18-month period. And he can do it legally, under the wording of the present act.

This racket, however, is very unfair to the honest workman. By honest workman, is meant the workman who gets out of work and lives on his savings while looking for another job, instead of rushing to file a claim for unemployment insurance.

If this honest workman does not find a job and exhausts his savings, it usually is too late for him to file for unemployment insurance. The time limit has passed. So, the honest workman finds himself broke while his legally-honest but morally dishonest fellow-worker takes advantage of the lag-quarter to draw benefits while loafing.

Correction of this loophole in the law certainly is a "must" and the method of doing it will be ed and assisted in the Mass. Those attending from Troop No. 164 were: Father Clair Drummy, Chairman C. J. Jagers, Edward Fitzgerald, Glen Huff, Gary Zellmer, Jimmy Jagers, Robert Ybarando, Donald Boltz, Joe Cota, Russel Graft, Steve McClintock, and Fred Johansen.

The CYO will meet in the School Auditorium Sunday at 6:30 p. m. All Catholic teenagers are urged to attend.

There will be a paper drive from February 22-26. Save your papers and call H 6-8624 for pickup. The proceeds will go to the upper grades to put their baseball field in shape for the coming season.

The school is proud of two eighth graders, Charles Galieto and Louis Wagner for making the All Star basketball team of the Elementary School League. They will play with this team against St. Augustine team.

Sunshine snippers 4-H Club sang at the Vista La Mesa P.T.A. recently. On Friday they served at their meeting. Mrs. S. D. Fisher will be co-leader replacing Mrs. Burgreen, who resigned.

The Neighborhood Club of Lemon Grove Girl Scouts is meeting tomorrow (Friday) at 1 p. m. at Community Center for the regular business meeting.

explained in later installments.

While this series to some extent has exposed chiseling and frauds on the unemployment insurance-reserve fund in California, it should not be assumed it is intended as a series of "expose" stories. The motive is much more serious than that.

It recently was stated in a newspaper story that if an atom bomb fell on a major American city and the private insurance companies had to pay for the damage, every insurance company with extensive coverage in that city would go broke.

The state unemployment insurance fund is in exactly the same situation as the private insurance companies, except that the "atom bomb" in its case would be widespread unemployment.

The ratio of payments (or premiums) into the unemployment insurance fund is like the ratio of premium payments on a private insurance policy—very small compared with the amount of the principal.

If every private insurance policy became due the same day, every insurance company would go broke. But actual payment of policies is spread over long periods of time and the insurance companies, not being troubled with "rackets," can make provisions for having sufficient money on hand to pay off.

The state unemployment insurance reserve fund should be, and it is desired that it be, handled on the same basis.

But when rackets in a single year take money out of the unemployment insurance fund to an amount that would balance the diminishing fund, or even permit it to show again, it is plain that there are serious faults in the act that must be corrected to preserve the fund for the inevitable emergency that is bound to come.

Some of these faults will be described in the next installment.
